

Transfer of Copyright Agreement

The Transfer of Copyright Agreement is designed to (a) foster the widest distribution of the articles published by the International Journal of Teaching and Learning in Higher Education (IJTLHE), and (b) protect the rights of both the author(s) and the IJTLHE. The transfer of copyright assures that requests for permission to reproduce IJTLHE materials are addressed uniformly. In transferring copyright from the article author(s) to the IJTLHE, the author(s) is agreeing to transfer the entire copyright of the article, including all rights to publish and to grant permission to others to publish the article, in whole or in part, in print, electronic, or other formats.

Article Title:

Conditions of Agreement:

1. The author, by signing this agreement, represents that he or she has the authority to grant the transfer of copyright. For co-authored articles, the author represents that he or she has obtained the power of copyright assignment from all co-authors.
2. The article is the original work of the author(s) and has not been published previously.
3. The article is not under consideration for publication in any other journal.
4. The article contains no language or graphical representations that may be deemed libelous, obscene, or in any way contrary to current law.
5. The author has obtained written copyright permissions for any copyrighted materials appearing in the article and that these written permissions will be provided to IJTLHE upon request.
6. The author agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the IJTLHE against any claim, demand, or recovery brought forth by any breach of any proprietary right or copyright, or any unlawful matter contained in the article.
7. This Transfer of Copyright Agreement will become effective when signed by the author.

The author retains the following rights regarding the aforementioned article:

- a. Any and all rights granted under federal copyright law, including “fair use” (see U.S. Copyright Act, Title 17, Section 117).
- b. The author(s) retains his or her right to republish the article in a self-authored compilation of his or her work provided that proper acknowledgement is given to IJTLHE as the original publisher.

I agree that any copies made under the above provisions will carry the original IJTLHE copyright notice and that I have informed any co-authors of the above terms.
